

What to Expect at Your ISP Meeting

A simple guide to help you get ready

Easy Read version

This guide has 5 parts:

- 1. Learn about my meeting
- 2. Get ready
- 3. Questions I can ask
- 4. My meeting notes
- 5. After my meeting

My name:

My meeting date:

What is an ISP meeting?

ISP means Individual Support Plan.

An ISP meeting is a time to talk about:

- ✓ My life
- ✓ My goals
- ✓ My choices
- ✓ The support I need

This meeting is about you.

Remember

- ♥ You can ask questions.
- ♥ You can ask someone to explain something in a different way.
- ♥ Your thoughts are important.
- ♥ Your choices are important.

You can talk about

- ☐ What is important to me
- ☐ What I like to do
- ☐ What is going well
- ☐ What is difficult
- ☐ What I want to learn or try
- ☐ What I want to change
- ☐ What support I need

You can join in the way that works best for you

You can:

- ☐ Talk
- ☐ Write
- ☐ Use pictures
- ☐ Use a communication device
- ☐ Ask someone I trust to help me
- ☐ Ask for more time to think

Think about my life

Before my meeting, I can take a few minutes to think about my life.

What is going well?

What is hard right now?

What would I like to change?

What do I want to work toward?

What is important to me?

Who do I want to help me?

Questions I can ask

I am allowed to ask questions. I can write them down before the meeting.

About my plan

- ☐ What are my goals?
- ☐ What support is in my plan?
- ☐ What is changing?
- ☐ What stays the same?

About my supports

- ☐ Who will help me?
- ☐ What should I expect from this support?
- ☐ What do I do if my support is not working?

About my goals

- ☐ How will I know if I am making progress?
- ☐ What can I do to work toward my goal?
- ☐ Can my goal change if my needs or interests change?

If I do not understand, I can say:

"Can you explain that another way?"

"I do not understand."

"Can you give me some time to think?"

"Can we come back to that?"

My questions:

1. _____

2. _____

3. _____

What I need to ask:

Remember

My voice matters.

My life matters.

My goals matter.

My choices matter.

My questions matter.

I do not have to do this alone.

Ask questions.

Take my time.

Speak up in the way that works best for me.
